

How to Interview a Possible Landlord

When you begin to look at places to rent, you will have a chance to ask questions to the landlord directly. Below are some questions to ask the landlord. Remember to get any information in writing before making a rental agreement.

LEASE AND MONEY	Answer
What is the monthly rent?
What is the deposit I will have to pay to hold the apartment/house and is it refundable if I change my mind?
Is there a damage deposit? If so, how much?
Am I required to purchase renter's insurance?
What is the total amount of money I will need to move in? (i.e. Deposit, damage deposit, any additional fees)
Can I sublet<sup>1</sup> the place if I need to?
Can I have roommates?
Is there penalty for late rent? If so, what is it?
If I need to move, is there a penalty if I break my lease? If so, what is it?
When does rent need to be paid each month?
How is the rent payment to be made? (i.e. mail, online, directly to landlord)
Do you offer a one year or month-to-month lease?

---

<sup>1</sup> Sublet means to allow someone to rent all or part of a house or other building that you are renting from someone else.

If I decide to stay, what are the terms for renewing the lease?
If I decide not to stay, how much notice is required?
Have there been rental increases in the past three years? If so, how much?
When is the property available?
Is someone currently living in the home?
PETS
Do you allow pets?
Do you charge a pet deposit? If so, is it refundable?
Are there limitations/restrictions on my pet?
